

REMEDIA

/rèmedíá/ <Noun> Concatenation of {recycled media}, place where recycled materials are processed, sorted and stored for use in creative and functional projects of artistic and educational value.

Recycled Materials to Save for Our REMEDIA

Paint and Paintbrushes (used but not dead)

Crayons (broken is cool)

Markers (dried out is fine)

Paper (construction plans, gift wrapping, crepe, tissue, stickers, candy wrappers, paper bag, shredded, confetti, cardboard, etc.... you name it)

Gift Bags (Big Big Please!)

Glue (any kind as long as it is not dry)

Tape (any kind)

Glitter, pom poms, craft sticks, pipe cleaners, beads, etc.

Play dough or Clay

Styrofoam (packing noodles or big pieces)

Strong Cardboard Boxes

Milk Bottles (white)

Laundry detergent jugs (like stasoft)

Plastic pump bottles (water bottles, handwash bottles)

Corks

Paper Towel Rolls

Egg Cartons (any kind)

Interesting plastic containers, cups, and tubs (plain, any colour, preferably without printed writing or pictures)

Spice containers and shakers (all types)

Pringles Cans, formula tins or similar

Ribbon, yarn, string, rope

Buttons and beads of all description

Wire (plastic, metal, thin thick.... just not barbed ☺)

Fake plants and flowers

Old nail polish

Fabric scraps

Unwanted scrapbook supplies

Netted veggie bags (lemons, onions, butternut, gems)

Broken or unwanted jewellery

Plastic Lids and Caps

Unwanted CD's and CD boxes, cassette tape boxes
Old Picture frames
Broken or unwanted candles
Unwanted small plastic toys, legos, wood blocks (or pieces there of)
Marbles
Puzzles (even odd pieces)
Gently worn clothing (jeans, tee shirts, ESPECIALLY lonely socks in decent shape)
Storage bins and baskets
Shaving cream and bath bubbles needing a home
Sea shells, seed pods, interesting nature items
Feathers, interesting rocks, weird wood
Unused Paper plates and those old fashioned paper doilies
Cotton stuffing, fibre-fill, or batting
Old pegs ... or new ones
Spray bottles, squirt bottles, droppers and vaporisers (anything with a cool nose)
Rubber bands all sizes and colours
Bubble wrap, sponge wrap
Old Books, old maps
Wood pallets, wood scraps
Cardboard
Lip balm sticks and stick deodorant containers
Cal-C-Vita containers and similar
Ice cream sticks or similar
Plastic spoons, knives and forks (great to make and decorate with)
Old plastic file dividers and binders
Silver foil paper from inside cereal, crackers or the seal of a bottle
Big juice or water bottles

Any interesting material you can imagine a creative use for!!!!
It will all be put to fabulous use!!